

A HOME TOWN PAPER FOR HOME TOWN PEOPLE

VOL. XXVII

SOUTH SAN FRANCISCO, SAN MATEO COUNTY, CALIF., FRIDAY, SEPTEMBER 3, 1920.

NO. 36

SO. S. F. COUNTY'S SECOND LARGEST CITY!

HICKEY GIVEN MAJORITY OF 623

SUPERVISORS FIRST AND SECOND
TOWNSHIPS WIN; SHORTRIDGE
GIVEN MAJORITY FOR SENATOR AND FREE FOR CONGRESSMAN.

For United States Senator—Samuel Shortridge.

For Congressman—Arthur M. Free.

For Associate Justice, Supreme Court, W. A. Sloane.

For Justices, District Court of Appeals—George A. Sturtevant and John T. Nourse.

For Supervisor, First Township—

Mrs. Rosalia M. Brown.

Such, in brief, is the result of Tuesday's primary election for each of the offices where there was a contest. As The Enterprise goes to press returns from the state and from San Mateo county are still incomplete, but it is believed the final count will make no change in the successful candidates as announced above.

In the first township the principal interest was manifested in the contest between Thomas L. Hickey of South San Francisco and John Fahey of Salada Beach over the supervisorship. Mr. Hickey, the incumbent, has served in the office for four years, and the residents of the district manifested their confidence in him by re-electing him by a majority of 623. The exact vote in the first township, which takes in the entire north end of the county and as far south as Easton, including part of Burlingame, was Hickey 1735, Fahey 1112. This settles the election so far as Hickey is concerned, as he will have no opposition at the general election. In South San Francisco the vote stood Hickey 439, Fahey 182, or a majority for Hickey of 257. Hickey carried every precinct in his own except the sixth, where Fahey had two votes the better of the argument. Fahey had a substantial majority in his own district along the coast. In Colma and Daly City Hickey had a majority.

The contest for senator in South San Francisco resulted in the following vote: Kent 133, Shortridge 229, Wallace 87.

There will be no change on the board of supervisors for the next term as Mrs. Rosalia Brown of San Mateo, present supervisor, won over her opponent, W. D. Shawhan, by more than three to one. In the third township John MacBain was re-elected without opposition, as was Joseph Francis in the fourth. There was no contest in the fifth township, served on the board by Dr. C. V. Thompson.

HICKEY CHOSE WELL IN GETTING POLITICAL WORKERS

Misses Ruth McMills and Nellie Boroli did their bit in carrying South San Francisco for Thomas L. Hickey election day. The two young ladies were up bright and early campaigning and getting the voters to the polls in Miss McMills' big red car. They were on the job until 7 o'clock in the evening, not even stopping to eat. They were rewarded by seeing Mr. Hickey returned to office. It would seem utterly useless for anybody to run against Hickey when good-looking girls get out and work all day for him.

WOMAN'S CLUB MEETS HERE WITH COUNTY FEDERATION

The South San Francisco Woman's Club met today with the County Federation at Fraternal Hall. Representatives from Redwood City, San Mateo, and Burlingame were present. Mrs. Jessica Lee Briggs from San Francisco will give an address on "Americanization." There will be another address on "Yukon and the Northern Land." Mrs. James Hazlett will give readings from Kipling. A luncheon was served for the directors at 12 o'clock.

STILL EXPLOSION CAUSES MAN'S DEATH

G. Sardi Dies and Pasquale Donati
Not Expected to Live as Result of Attempt to Make Liquor.

Later—Pasquale Donati died of his injuries Thursday morning.

G. Sardi is dead and Pasquale Donati is not expected to live as the result of the explosion of a large still in which they were attempting to manufacture "jackass brandy" in a shack near Baden Monday afternoon. After the explosion the two men, terribly burned as they were, made their way to the highway, where they hailed a passing machine to take them to the South San Francisco Hospital.

It was by a strange freak of fate that the location of one of the largest liquor stills ever found in this section of the state was discovered. Prohibition Officers D. W. Rinekel and V. De Spain were driving along the highway near Baden Monday afternoon when they were hailed by two men, who staggered up the road from the direction of some low hills a short distance to the west. The two men were terribly burned and said their injuries had been received by the explosion of a boiler. The officers took them to the South San Francisco Hospital. On the way the officers detected the odor of whisky mash, and determined to make an investigation. In the hills mentioned, probably 250 yards from the highway and screened by a high windbreak, they found a small shack. In this cabin was a large, complete still for making liquor. The place and its equipment were new.

The still was equipped with 300 feet of copper coil and a fifteen-horsepower boiler. Besides the still 1500 gallons of sour mash in barrels, together with molasses and sugar, a ton of barley and ten gallons of high-proof alcohol, was confiscated.

Sardi died at the hospital early Tuesday morning of his injuries. Wednesday Donati gave to Deputy Coroner Silvio Nieri of South San Francisco a complete statement concerning the plans of the men and the explosion. He declared that he and Sardi built the cabin and installed the big still for the purpose of making alcohol. The explosion occurred, he declared, during the first day's operations. He stated the apparatus was a 100-gallon still.

Both men were Sicilians and both were from San Francisco.

"SENATOR" HEALY DIES AT SAN MATEO HOSPITAL

Michael F. Healy, for many years a resident of South San Francisco, where he owned a large amount of property, died at the Red Cross Hospital in San Mateo Wednesday, where he had been during an attack of pneumonia lasting several weeks. For the past year the deceased had been a resident of Redwood City.

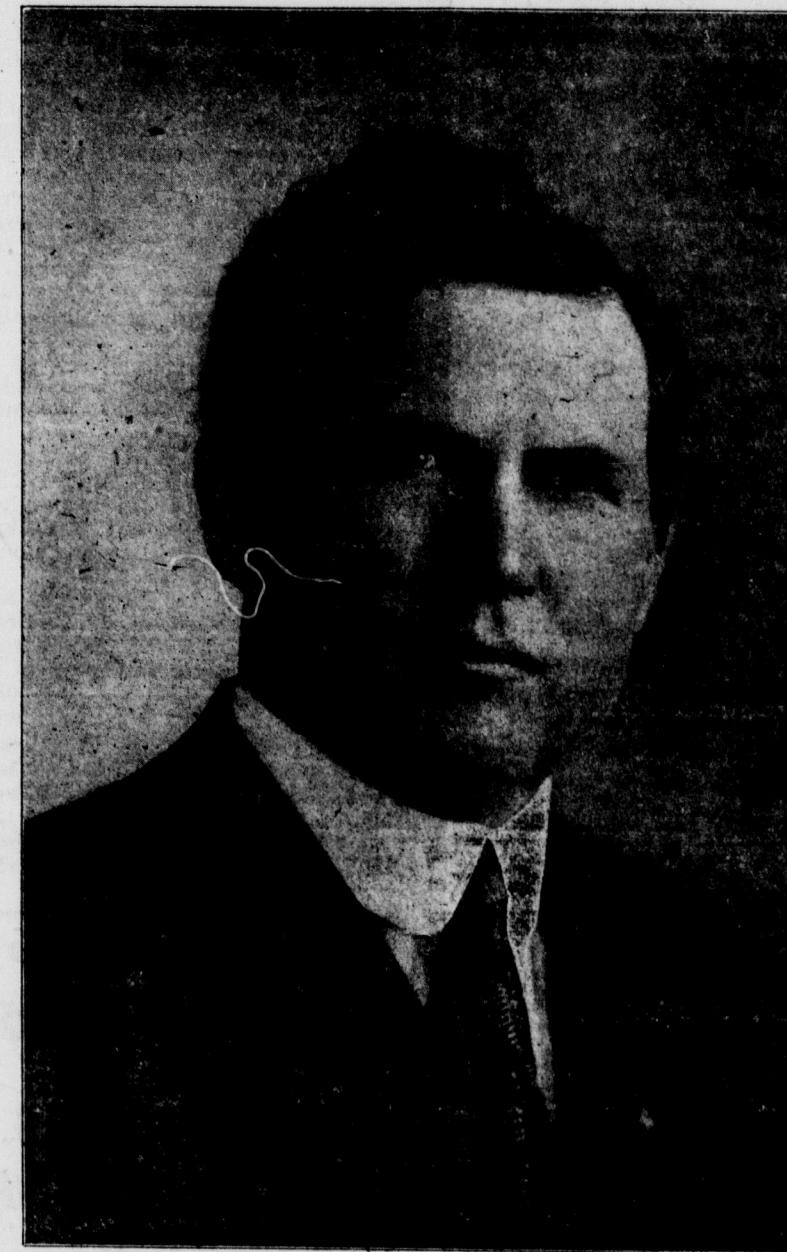

Michael Healy was one of this city's pioneer residents and property owners. He was at one time in the lumber business here, later going into the saloon business. For many years he had been known as "Senator," from the fact that his saloon was called "The Senate." He was also prominent in political life and served on the city council. He was a native of Ireland and at the time of his death was 67 years of age. He leaves a widow and two children, Raynold and Maria Healy, and three sons by a former marriage, James E., Michael F. Jr., and William H. Healy.

The funeral was held today (Friday) at Mount Carmel Catholic Church, with burial at Holy Cross Cemetery.

VISIT WITH JOHN FISCHER.

Mr. and Mrs. Dave McMills and Mrs. D. McSweeney motored to Belmont Sunday and called on John Fischer. They report Mr. Fischer looking well, but still far from strong. The party took some pictures at Belmont before returning. Mr. Fischer seemed much pleased to see his old friends from South San Francisco.

MYSTERY SHROUDING OLD HOUSE CLEARED

Sordid Story Unwinds Explaining Use of Salada Beach Castle.

Sensational developments have followed the charge made by a San Francisco man Tuesday that Dr. Galen R. Hickok, who had offices in the Panhandle building, had performed an illegal operation on his wife. Police officers of San Francisco and San Mateo county raided the old McClosky building at Salada Beach, long known as "The House of Mystery," and found three young women there who had recently undergone criminal operations and were in charge of Miss Cleo Tevis, resident nurse at the place. Dr. Hickok and Miss Tevis have both been placed under arrest. Dr. Hickok was released on $2000 bail. Miss Tevis was taken to the county jail at Redwood City Wednesday night.

In digging about in the grounds of the "castle," purchased by Dr. Hickok four years ago and now believed to have been used by him as a hospital where many illegal operations have been performed, the police have unearthed bones and fragments of women's clothing, leading to the belief that some of the doctor's patients succumbed to his treatment and were buried on the grounds.

Hickok is alleged to have been in trouble with the authorities a number of times before on charges of malpractice.

BENEDETTI GIRL HAS RIGHT EYE INJURED AND REMOVED

Little Josephine Benedetti, the nine-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. Benedetti of 431 Baden avenue, had her right eye so badly injured while playing with small companions recently that it was removed at the South San Francisco Hospital. Mario Dini, a boy of about the injured girl's age, was handling a pistol loaded with shot, when the weapon was discharged and the iris of the girl's eye punctured. A peculiar feature of the case was that while the left side of the girl's face received thirty wounds from the shot, the left eye was uninjured. The child is now recovering from her painful experience.

SCHAW-BATCHER PLANT TO STOP MAKING SHIPS

Shipyards to Resume Manufacture of Pipe and Reduce Crew.

The long-rumored abandonment of the Schaw-Batcher shipyards as a shipbuilding plant seems in a fair way to be realized within a few months, but the plant will continue as a pipe works, according to a statement made to The Enterprise Thursday by W. H. Talbot, general manager of the Schaw-Batcher Company. Mr. Talbot denied, however, that contracts from the South San Francisco plant would be transferred to the company's Los Angeles plant, known as the Southwestern Shipbuilding Company. This story was given circulation by a San Francisco paper Wednesday, but is seemingly without foundation.

"Our present contracts for the South San Francisco shipyard will be filled there," Mr. Talbot declared. "There are now several ships on the ways at South San Francisco and these will be completed there, after that, which will take several months, according to present plans, the place will be run as a pipe manufacturing plant."

Mr. Talbot admitted that the story that this discontinuation of shipbuilding was caused largely by labor conditions was true.

"Labor conditions around the bay are far from satisfactory at present, as you know," he stated. "We are employing about 1500 men at present at the plant. For manufacturing pipe this crew can be somewhat reduced. The plant being kept running as a pipe factory may depend largely upon labor conditions in the future."

It is reported that other shipbuilding plants around the bay are planning large curtailment of activities, partly because of labor conditions and partly because of the difficulty in obtaining material.

WHIST CLUB MEETS.

Thursday night the Whist Club met at the home of Mrs. J. O. Snyder, Mrs. Ambrose McSweeney taking first prize, Mrs. A. P. Scott second, and G. W. Holston third.

CITY TRUSTEES HEAR ASSESSMENT PROTESTS

Land Company and Bank Given Slight Reductions; Measures Against Gambling Again Discussed.

For about the twentieth time the city trustees of South San Francisco sat as a board of equalization Monday night to hear protests against city assessments, and this time the protests were forthcoming. Recently the board raised the assessments on many parcels of property in this city in an attempt to equalize the valuations. From this increase came Friday night's protests.

W. J. Martin, general manager of the South San Francisco Land and Improvement Company, filed protest against the valuations placed on some of the company's swamp land south of town, on water frontage property which he showed by the map to be actually in the channel fronting the W. P. Fuller, Steiger and Western Meat properties, on the Metropolitan Hotel, and on a tract of the company's hill land north of town. In each case a slight reduction was allowed, but the valuations were retained at figures in excess of the mark set when the 20 per cent increase over last year's assessments was placed on all city property.

W. H. Coffinberry, president of the Bank of South San Francisco, protested against the valuation placed upon the bank's property at the corner of Linden and Grand avenues, and a reduction was allowed, but the figure was kept well above that set by the 20 per cent increase over last year's valuation.

At 9:30 adjournment was taken as a board of equalization and the city officials were called to order as a board of trustees.

E. E. Cunningham, J. G. Walker, and E. C. Peck, members of the committee appointed by the Chamber of Commerce to confer with the city trustees on measures to be taken to restrict gambling in South San Francisco, were on hand. Mr. Cunningham acted as spokesman for the committee and described the recent meeting held by the Chamber when the meeting hall was crowded with guests, and the gathering voted unanimously to recommend that the city officials take emphatic measures against the gambling evil. A discussion of possible steps to be taken followed, with the result that the board asked the committee to make its recommendations in writing. There is now every indication that steps will be taken against the gamblers of town and also against the bootlegging and blind pig vermin that infest the city, but whether these measures will take the form of new ordinances or whether all business houses where these things go on will be placed under license with the view of revoking the license and closing up any place permitting gambling or illicit liquor selling, is still a question.

The trustees will sit as a board of equalization again Friday morning at 9 o'clock.

WOODRUFF INN AMONG BIG TREES PLANS GRAND BALL

Woodruff Inn, the noted resort among the redwoods at beautiful La Honda, is planning a big Admission Day dance, to be held Saturday evening, September 11th. La Honda is a favorite outing place for residents of the entire county and no doubt many will attend this affair, announcements of which have just appeared. A high-class San Francisco orchestra has been secured to furnish the music for the occasion.

MORAZZINI BUYS MORE SO. S. F. PROPERTY

Pacifico Morazzini has added to his already large holdings in South San Francisco when this week he purchased from W. J. Martin and D. G. Martin lot 10 in block 124. This is close-in property and is improved with two good five-room residences.

CENSUS TOTALS FOR COUNTY GIVEN

SAN MATEO FIRST CITY, SO. S. F.
IS SECOND, BURLINGAME THIRD,
REDWOOD NEXT, DALY FIFTH;
SO. S. F. SHOWS GREAT GROWTH

South San Francisco is the second largest city in San Mateo county. This fact became known this week when the census of each city in the county and of the county at large was announced by the Bureau of Census at Washington.

Furthermore only one city in the county made a greater growth between 1910 and 1920 than South San Francisco. This was Burlingame, the increase in the population of which in the ten years mentioned exceeded that made by this city by only 120. South San Francisco has now 204 residents more than Burlingame.

Redwood City, which in 1910 was the second largest city in the county, has now fallen to fourth place. But at that its growth was greater in actual numbers between 1910 and 1920 than that of San Mateo, the latter city increasing in population 1595 souls while Redwood added 1678. In the same time South San Francisco added 2422 to its population and Burlingame 2542.

The figures for Daly City (3779) come rather as a surprise, as the California Development Board some months ago gave an estimate for Daly City's population that placed it among the largest towns of the county. The figures on this city in 1910 are not available. If they were they would undoubtedly show a large increase.

The population for the county is given at 36,781, as compared with 26,585 in 1910.

Here are the figures as announced by the bureau:

Year—	1920	1910	1900
Township 1, including Daly, San Bruno, and South San Francisco cities.....	36,781	26,585	12,094

POPULAR STEEL WORKER NOW A MARRIED MAN

John Jose, a popular young man of South San Francisco and employed at the Pacific Coast Steel Company, has left the ranks of bachelors.

John married Miss Ada Knight, a pretty Seattle girl, at the First Congregational Church in San Francisco last Saturday evening, and according to those who witnessed the ceremony it was a brilliant affair. John McDonald acted as best man and Miss Leta Clinton acted as bridesmaid.

After the wedding ceremony a banquet was held at the St. Germain which lasted until the wee hours of morning, when the happy couple returned home to South San Francisco.

Mr. and Mrs. Jose will reside in South San Francisco and their many friends join in wishing them success.

"PACIFIC SERVICE" MEMBERS HAVE MANY GOOD TIMES

The "Pacific Service" Employees' Association, composed of employees of the Pacific Gas and Electric Company, has completed an unusually successful season of activities for the first half of 1920, according to an announcement just made. These activities included high jinks at San Francisco, March 9th; at Sacramento, March 20th; at Oakland, March 22d, and at Vallejo and Mare Island, April 10th. April 24th and 25th an expedition was taken to Auburn and Lake Spaulding under auspices of Placer, Drum, and Nevada districts. April 27th was given the dramatic offering, "Cupid in Khaki," in Oakland. Chico, De Sabla, Northern, and Coleman districts joined in a gathering at Chico and De Sabla, May 29th, 30th, and 31st. On June 17th the annual dinner was held at the Palace Hotel, San Francisco, and the annual picnic was given August 21st at Alum Rock, near San Jose.

A program of social events is now being planned by the association for the fall and winter months, and will include several excursions. The association now has nearly 2000 members, including men and women employees of the P. G. and E.

REEVES LAYS AWAY ANOTHER FIGHTER AT OAKLAND BOUT

Several South San Francisco fight fans went to Oakland Wednesday night and saw Jack Reeves, the local middleweight scrapper, lay another man away and incidentally jump another hurdle on the road toward the middleweight championship. Reeves' opponent this time was Frank Barrieau, the middleweight champion of Canada. Reeves got the decision following a four-round go, in every round of which he had much the best of it.

Thursday Reeves left for Tulsa, Okla., where he will meet George Chip Labor Day. Following this fight he will return to San Francisco to meet another fighter who stands between him and the middleweight championship. Jack's local friends are confident he is the coming "champ."

MR. AND MRS. GEORGE HAAKER ENTERTAIN YOUNG PEOPLE

A most enjoyable evening was spent at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George Haaker last Friday evening, when twenty-five young people gathered and spent the hours in dancing and playing games. About midnight supper was served. The company broke up in the wee sma' hours of the morning.

Among those present were: Misses Ruth McMills, Nellie Bortoli, Alice Kavanagh, Alice Wallace, Bernice Carroll, Olga Bortoli, Bobby Doherty, Dorothy Chawden, Jessie Williams, Dot Gladstone, Georgette Quinland, and Margaret Buddy; Messrs. Joe Welte, Albert Raffaeli, Theo Fischer, Hayden McMills, Stephen Fischer, James Wallace, Charles Mercks, Phil Wilson, William Foley, Rommy Murry, Joe Fischer, and John Wallace.

Imaginative Interpretation.

"Boss, I have been workin' on figures this morning till my head is just swimmin'!"

"Figures? Swimming? Say, kid, I believe you are trying to work me for an afternoon off so you can go to the beach."—Publishers' Auxiliary.

My Creed.

I would be true, for there are those who trust me;

I would be pure, for there are those who care;

I would be strong, for there is much to suffer;

I would be brave, for there is much to dare;

I would be friend to all—the foe, the friendless;

I would be giving, and forget the gift;

I would be humble, for I know my weakness;

I would look up—and laugh—and love—and live.

MANY ENROLL IN NIGHT SCHOOL

Registration for the night school, a branch of the San Mateo union high school, began last Monday evening at the Edgemont grammar school. Between twenty-five and thirty pupils signed up for the various courses and many more are expected to enter. Registration will be open again Monday evening, and all who have not yet registered are urged to do so at this time. It will be to the advantage of the pupil to register and enter the night school as near as possible to the beginning of the school year. The school, from present indications, will be in session Monday and Wednesday evenings of each week. All who are interested in any way are welcome to come and visit any evening the school is open.

CATHOLIC WHIST PARTY.

A large-sized crowd attended the whist party at Cheetah's Tavern given in aid of St. Bruno's parish last Friday evening. Both of the candidates for supervisor of the first township, Thomas L. Hickey and John Fahey, were present, thus enabling the voters to meet them personally. Among the prize winners were Edward Allen, Esther Trivoli, Mrs. J. Ledwith, J. Green, Mrs. W. A. Augsburger, Mrs. Marecek, Mrs. E. Shenk, Mrs. Dullera, Mrs. John B. Fahey, E. T. Griffin, B. Stowell, W. H. Cross, Mrs. H. Cook, J. S. Bello, E. C. Brose, P. J. Sullivan, Mrs. English, Mrs. Manseau, J. Ludwig, Henry Schmidt, Mrs. E. Valentine, John P. Maresco, Mrs. Helen Fisher, and Mrs. J. Bogle.

BALL TEAM FAILS TO SHOW UP FOR GAME

The South Side Parlor, N. S. G. W., baseball team, scheduled to play ball here with the firemen last Sunday, failed to show up. A large audience was on hand in spite of the prevailing winds. Although disappointment was keen at first, a scrub game, made up of two teams of firemen and others, furnished amusement for the fans and they did not have to go home without seeing some form of the national pastime.

HAROLD RICE INJURED IN COLLISION WITH BUS

Harold Rice, a resident of Lomita Park and well known among the local young people, was severely cut about the face in an accident last Friday evening, when his machine collided with one of the Peninsula Rapid Transit Company's buses. When taken to the hospital Rice was bleeding profusely from wounds which required several stitches. Two passengers in the bus, Mrs. J. F. Weinke, mother of Mrs. Elizabeth Nash, county clerk, and Mrs. Minna P. Eetz, cousin of Mrs. Nash, were seriously injured. Mrs. Eetz is suffering from a broken leg and possible internal injuries, while Mrs. Weinke was painfully cut and bruised.

COURSES MEET.

The favorites for last Sunday's coursing meet were defeated before a medium-sized crowd. Martinett, famous imported dog from England, owned by John Rosseter, was defeated in the first course. In the third course Steam Roller was defeated by Sportsman. Louis L. won the deciding course for the old dogs. Oakland Hero defeated My Rose in the deciding course for puppies.

Next Sunday a non-winner's stake will be run.

MARSHAL PIXLEY DIES AT DAUGHTER'S HOME

Marshal Pixley, father of Mrs. Charles Coryell of San Bruno, passed away at his daughter's residence Wednesday evening. His death was not unexpected, as he had been in poor health for some time past. Besides his daughter, he leaves two sons, Gus Pixley of Monterey and Ed Pixley of San Jose. His body was taken to San Jose for interment.

DEDICATION IDEA POPULAR.

The idea of a big dedication of the new city hall, a really worth while affair as outlined in The Enterprise two weeks ago, struck a popular note in town. Many persons have told the editor they think it an excellent plan. All are agreed that the opening of the city hall offers an opportunity for advertising South San Francisco such as may never present itself again.

This city is growing rapidly, the census figures published on the first page of to-day's issue are convincing evidence of that. It is one of the most progressive towns in the state; its miles of paved streets, its great industrial plants, its fine buildings—including the new high school, the public library, the hospital, the Fraternal Hall and others—prove that beyond a possibility of doubt. Now it comes forward with the finest city hall of any town of its size in California. When that building is formally opened, such a ceremony should be staged as to bear home to every town and hamlet in California the fact that South San Francisco is "up and coming," one of the state's most wideawake communities.

Yeas, brethren, and also it will afford us an opportunity to impress upon the world at large the fact that though this city is laboring under the incubus of the name of South San Francisco it is in no wise part or parcel of the big city; that it is a distinct municipality in itself; that it needs no assistance or reflected glory from the larger town; that it stands now and proposes always to stand squarely on its own legs; that it will take a back seat for no other city when it comes to public spirit, progress or "pep."

THE CHANGE COMING.

Financial papers state that crude rubber is lowest on record, wool is below pre-war figures, and silk is selling at new low prices. Labor is becoming more plentiful and some sections report that men are again actually looking for and willing to work.

This does not indicate the coming of hard times or anything like that, but it does indicate a change for the better in the life of the nation. Prices are going to begin to strike a more conservative level due to the fact that efficiency in production is going to be increased.

We have had a period of high wages, short hours and decreased production, which has doubled up prices on the consumer. We are now going to have a period of good wages, fair hours and increased production, which will give the consumer value received for his money. Workmen will find they must do an efficient day's work for a day's pay or another man will be put in their place; the manufacturer will find that he will have to furnish a good product for the price charged or his goods will not sell.

In other words, the day of demanding the highest wage or price for inefficient labor or manufactured goods—the day when anything went and the consumer paid the bill—is about over. The handwriting is clear upon the wall for those who will read.—Industrial News Bureau.

The king and queen of England are encouraging royal princesses to marry commoners, there being not sufficient royal males to go around. But possibly their majesties are far-seeing, and are providing a bulwark against the common people against the day when the throne begins to wobble.

Before attempting to overcome an obstacle it is best to carefully gauge its height. Many of the wrecks of life are the direct result of a failure to give reasonable consideration to obstructions which seem slight but are in reality momentous in their possibilities for ultimate disaster.

The oldest person in the world has been located. He is John Shell of Kentucky. Shell has 131 years to his credit, is hale, hearty and says he never ate, drank or used tobacco to excess. It is needless to remark, however, that he was never the editor of a country paper.

Twenty-six per cent of the men mobilized by France were lost in the war. The injection of American blood in the repopulation of the country would do much toward raising France again to the proud position of eminence it once occupied in the community of nations.

Bolshevism has spread its red wings very generally over Europe, and is even invading this country to a dangerous degree. The man who can not respect the American flag and American institutions should be conducted to the border line and kicked across.

No person ever really profits from a gift unless he makes an effort to deserve it. To accept and forget is but to forge another link in the fetters which chain you to a future without hope and without reward.

American ministers are about the poorest paid class of men in the country. We suggest, however, that their salaries might be materially enhanced by putting a tax on snoring in church.

The idle youth who inherits a fortune is in greater danger than he who faces the muzzle of a gun. The one may plunge to his soul's destruction, while the other may only be deprived of his life.

Of course, everybody longs for peace and tranquility in the U. S. A. And, likewise, everybody wants the other fellow to be the one who is flattened out by the steam roller of individual prosperity.

The young lady who recently remained away from a party because she "simply didn't have a thing to wear," quite overlooked the fact she would have been the observed of all observers.

While discussing the anarchy that prevails in Mexico, let us forget the same brand that is rearing its head in our own country. Housecleaning at home is a good policy at times.

The profiteer is on the down grade. Man the side lines and swat him in the arctic regions as he rushes by. No greater sport could be afforded the American consumer today.

Cupid, we admit, is the god of love. But these be the days when the little devil flits around with a dart in one hand and a pocketbook in the other.

The preacher ties the knot, the judge unties it, and between the two it's a continuous merry-go-round performance from one act to the other.

"A little money is a dangerous thing," say an exchange. Of course. It is just another temptation in the path of the innocent profiteer.

PRACTICAL RECIPES

FINDS MANY COOKING USES FOR CANNED FRUIT JUICES

The juice of such fruits as the grape, currant, blackberry, strawberry, raspberry, elderberry, and cherry makes delicious, wholesome drinks. Fruit juices also may be canned and made into jelly when it is wanted during the winter. Winter jelly making relieves the pressure of work during the hot and busy fruit season. Sugar need not be added until the juice is served or until the jelly is made.

The following directions are given by the United States Department of Agriculture: Extract the juice by boiling the fruit with a very little water and strain through a jelly bag. To prepare the juice for canning pour it into bottles or jars which have been boiled for fifteen minutes. Put these on a false bottom in a hot-water bath. This may be a commercial canner or a container large enough to hold sufficient water. The water should reach the necks of the bottles and the shoulders of the jars. A cotton stopper may be pressed into the neck of the bottle and left during the processing period; or a cork, after being boiled, may be put in lightly.

If jars are used as containers put boiled tops in place and half seal. Process for thirty minutes at the simmering point. Remove, put stoppers of bottles in tightly, and when cool dip the top of the bottle into melted paraffin or sealing wax. Equal parts of rosin and beeswax make a good wax. Finish tightening the tops of the jars as soon as they are removed from the bath. Test for leaks and store in a dry, dark, cool place.

Aside from their use in making jelly and as a base for home-made drinks these fruit juices are excellent for use in gelatin, sauces, ice creams, sherbets, and other desserts. Those which are to be used in this way will have a better flavor if sugar is added before they are bottled.

SHOULD USE BEANS AND PEAS AT TIMES IN PLACE OF MEAT

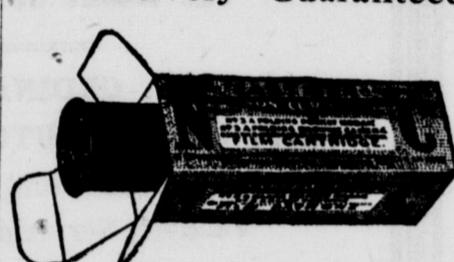

Beans and peas contain more protein than other fresh vegetables. This protein, however, is not the same as the proteins of meat, milk or egg, food specialists of the United States Department of Agriculture say, and should not be used to the exclusion of the others. When, however, beans and peas are freely used, less milk, meat, and eggs are needed. The following foods or combinations of foods supply as much protein as one-fourth pound of beef of average composition:

Eight or nine ounces of shelled green peas or beans. A large dish of green peas may be used in place of meat for dinner occasionally. Many persons like peas cooked with mint or served with mint sauce.

One egg and four or five ounces of shelled green peas or beans. An omelet with peas (one egg and one cup peas per person) or a baked pea or bean souffle may be used as a meat substitute.

One cup skim milk and four ounces of shelled green peas or beans. A Lima bean chowder made with skim milk is a good lunch or supper dish.

RIBBONS, which have so long been accessory to everything in apparel, have progressed until they enter into the making of as many garments as they have adorned. They are present in every sort of dress, from the simplest street frock to the most complicated of evening gowns—not merely as accessories, but as a part of the garment, or as its trimming. At the same time they flourish in accessories and in millinery as never before. The new season will bring us tailored clothes with ribbon vests or with ribbon ruches for trimming, or ribbon applique and simulated embroideries, and numberless ribbon garnishings, and adornments on afternoon and evening dresses promise an interesting theme, of which we had the beginning in the early spring.

It plays a modest but indispensable part in the handsome afternoon dress of which a picture appears here. This model for the coming season is made of georgette crepe over a satin slip, and one can imagine it in any of the season's rich, dark colors, livened by

KEEPING ALUMINUM BRIGHT.

Aluminum does not tarnish easily in ordinary use, but one caution should be observed in cleaning. Alkalies discolor aluminum; therefore it should not be washed with strong soap, nor should scouring powders containing free alkali be used on it. Discoloration on aluminum may be rubbed off with whiting or fine steel wool (grade 00), or dissolved by the acid in vinegar, or by dilute oxalic acid. These acids must be thoroughly washed off the aluminum. Some special preparations for cleaning aluminum are on the market.

TO REMOVE TARNISH FROM COPPER, BRASS AND BRONZE

The tarnish on copper, brass, and bronze is copper carbonate. It may be removed by friction, or dissolved in weak acids.

Rottenstone mixed with oil to a creamy consistency is the common substance used on these metals. After this cleaner has been applied the metal should be polished with a soft cloth. A final rubbing with dry rottenstone or whiting will give the metal an even brighter luster.

Oxalic-acid solution, buttermilk, or vinegar, especially when warmed, quickly dissolves the tarnish on these metals. All traces of these cleaning agents must be removed, however, or the metal will tarnish again very quickly, say household specialists of the United States Department of Agriculture.

Washing the metal in water, drying it, and rubbing it with dry whiting is usually effective. The whiting not only takes up moisture but polishes by friction.

"Of Such is the Kingdom of Heaven"

Inside the great brass statue of Moloch a roaring fire was built on holy days.

And into the seething arms of the pitiless god mothers hurled their screaming infants.

In the South Sea Islands, when either parent died, the children were slain and buried also, to wait the parent in the other world.

In China the girl babies were drowned; in Greece they were exposed upon the bleak and bitter mountainsides.

And even Socrates, the greatest of the Greeks, saw nothing in the practice to condemn.

Thus the ancient heathen world treated its babies.

Who was it that changed the world's thought about children? Who made them the most important citizens of the world?

Jesus of Nazareth. It was He who said "Suffer little children to come unto me and forbid them not."

He gave them the proud privilege of being His friends.

In every age His Church has been the champion of childhood. Datheus, a Christian Bishop, founded the first orphan asylum. All the laws for the protection of children have their roots and their security in His Church.

W. H. Coffinberry protesto' contro il valore posto sopra la banca. In ciascun caso fu data qualche piccola riduzione ma il valore tenuto molto piu' alto di quello che fosse l'anno scorso. Una discussione di misure da prendersi sul modo di por freno al vizio del gioco, fu tenuta, e facilmente presto saranno fatti passi necessari contro i giocatori e venditori di liquori.

UN'ESPLOSIONE CHE UCCIDE UNO E NE FERICE UN'ALTRO

Tardi—Pasquale Donati morto delle sue ferite Giovedì.

Causa l'esplosione di una distilleria di liquori, G. Sardi ha perduto la vita e Pasquale Donati e' rimasto malamente ferito tantache' non si crede possa guarire.

I suddetti tentavano fare della grappa quando avvenne l'esplosione Lunedì dopo mezzo giorno.

Dopo l'accaduto ambedue, in misere condizioni si recarono sullo stato highway cercando soccorso e per merlo caso s'imbatterono in due agenti del probizionismo D. W. Rinekele e V. De Spain i quali dopo aver condotto i due all'ospedale di South San Francisco, ritornarono all'campana la quale era nascosta dietro a delle siepi ed evi trovarono tutti l'indizi necessari ad indicare il lavoro segreto di liquore che i due disgraziati esercitavano.

Tutti e due erano oriundi Siciliani ed erano venuti da San Francisco.

R. Hickok padrone del locale per violare la legge medicale dello stato, performando su donne operazione illegali.

Col Dottore Hickok fu pure arrestata la Signorina Cleo Tevis un'infermiera trovata sul luogo stesso.

Quando gli agenti entrarono nel luogo trovarono ivi quattro giovani donne le quali a quanto sembra, sarebbero state convalescenti per illegali operazioni. Dopo l'arresto l'ufficiali scavando il terreno trovarono alcuni ossi umani ed avanzi di vestiario i quali si credono debbono appartenere a donne rimaste sotto l'operazione e sepolte sotto terra.

Dr. Hickok fu pure altra volta arrestato per simile ragione.

TO GIVE RURAL HELP

Program for Public Health and Community Welfare Is Now Well Under Way.

Rural communities and towns of less than 8,000 population benefit in a very large part by the public health and community welfare work of the American Red Cross. Almost all of the 8,600 Red Cross chapters have some rural sections in their territory. Therefore the Red Cross Rural Service.

Briefly, the purpose of Rural Service is to assist people to get out of life more health, wealth and happiness. In this purpose public health instruction and general educational progress of both children and adults play a big part.

Recreation is found to be one of the biggest needs in rural life. There is lack of sufficient play-life for the children and social life for the adults. Picnics, pageants, debating clubs, baseball leagues, community singing and other social events which bring the people of surrounding communities together have been organized and carried on under the guidance of Red Cross rural workers to great advantage. In many instances solving recreational problems and getting people together proves to be the awakening of the community to other conditions which may be improved by united action.

As a result of community organization, townships in which there had been neither plans nor interest in community progress have been organized to work together with the unified purpose of bringing their community up to the most enlightened standards. Lecture and musical entertainment courses have been started as a result of community meetings, as well as circulating libraries, Red Cross schools of instruction in Home Nursing, Care of the Sick and First Aid. In the larger towns the need for restrooms and public comfort stations is being met. Playgrounds for the children have been established and recreational activities worked out for the year.

In order that there may be concerted effort in carrying on the programs of the various welfare agencies in the rural districts, Red Cross Rural Service helps the organizations already on the ground. The main object of the service is to lend a hand everywhere and take the lead only where necessary.

JUNIOR RED CROSS ACTIVE IN EUROPE

Garden seeds for Polish orphans, milk for anaemic Greek babies, carpenters' tools for Czechoslovakian cripples—these are only a few of the gifts that young Americans are sending to the war-crushed children of the Old World.

Through the Junior Red Cross the boys and girls of the United States are giving a fresh start in life to little war orphans scattered all over Europe. They have set up orphans' homes in France, school colonies in Belgium and Montenegro, and day schools in Albania.

They are sending dozens of young Syrians, Montenegrins, and Albanians to American colleges in Constantinople and Belgrade, and maintaining more than hundred orphans of French soldiers at colleges and trade schools. In orphanages and farm schools up and down the peninsula of Italy there are nearly 500 wards of American Juniors.

Last winter thousand French children from the inadequate shelters of the devastated regions were sent by the Junior Red Cross to spend the cold months in warmer parts of France. At the same time five thousand little Belgians were having a hot lunch every day at Junior Red Cross school canteens.

American school children have already raised something like a million dollars for these enterprises, and they are still hard at work.

In China, through campaigns of education, the Junior Red Cross is helping to combat widely prevalent blindness and cholera.

RED CROSS RELIEF IN CENTRAL EUROPE

But for timely assistance of the American Red Cross during the last year, a large proportion of the 20,000,000 population of the Balkan States might have starved or perished from disease or exposure. Six million dollars worth of food, clothing and medical supplies have been sent to the Balkans—Roumania, Bulgaria, Albania, Montenegro, Serbia, Bosnia and Greece—since the beginning of Red Cross relief operations in Central Europe, while millions of dollars worth of food alone has been sent to the needy in these states.

The money expended by the Red Cross in this stricken portion of Europe has been used to set up hospitals, dispensaries, mobile medical units and to help in the general reconstruction of devastated areas. American tractors and other farming implements have been sent to the agricultural regions where aid has been given in plowing the land.

By the last of this year probably all American Red Cross agencies administering relief in Central Europe will have withdrawn. By that time, it is believed, the people will have approached a normal state of living and will be able through their own agencies which the Red Cross has helped set up to provide for themselves.

Pass the Flowers, Please!
When I cash in, and this poor race is run,
My chores performed, and all my errands done,
Perhaps some folks who mock my efforts here
Will, weeping, bend above my lowly bier—
And bring large garlands worth three bucks a throw,
And paw the ground in ecstasy of woe—
And friends will wear crepe knots on

While I look down (or up) a million miles,
And wonder why those people never

Serene and silent in my narrow box,
I shall not heed the praises or the knocks,
And all the pomp and all the vain display
Will be just fuss and feathers thrown away.

SOUTH SAN FRANCISCO A HISTORY

At the general election in November, 1892, Jacob Bryan of Colma was elected supervisor for the first township of San Mateo county. When the board of supervisors met and organized, January 3, 1893, there was a vacancy in the office of justice of the peace for the first township, caused by the removal of Justice-elect J. H. Hubachek to Alameda county. The board of supervisors appointed E. E. Cunningham to the vacant office, for the term of two years. At the general election of 1894 Mr. Cunningham was elected to the office of justice of the peace for the full term of four years, and was re-elected every four years thereafter until 1906, when he did not offer himself as a candidate, by reason of the increase of his work as postmaster.

E. E. Cunningham was also South San Francisco's first notary public. He was appointed first, April 17, 1893, and reappointed every four years thereafter, serving as a notary public from April 17, 1893, to January 12, 1912.

During the years of 1893 and 1894 the court of the justice of the peace was held in a one-story frame building on the east side of Cypress, south of Miller avenue. This building was later removed to Grand avenue, and now constitutes that portion of the Bianchi building occupied as a meat market.

From a historical view point, the old building is worthy of more than passing notice, as it was for two years the city's courthouse. It was also this city's first house of worship. Within its walls a Christian altar was first set up in South San Francisco.

It was the latter end of February, 1903, just before the beginning of the Lenten season, that Rev. Father James A. Cooper (at that time assistant to Rev. Father Callahan at San Mateo) came to South San Francisco looking for a place in which mass could be celebrated and the Catholics of the new community could meet to worship God. Like every one seeking information concerning the new town, the good father went to the postoffice, where he made known to Mrs. Cunningham his mission, with the result that the courtroom was tendered. It was accepted for meeting and celebrating mass on Sunday mornings, as often as Father Cooper's other duties would permit. When time came for the first mass, Mrs. Cunningham, with the help of her little Chinese boy, Wing Quong, prepared the courtroom for the service.

The only thing available for the altar was the square, flat-topped, box-like desk, behind which the magistrate sat in court, and upon it Mrs. Cunningham, with the aid of Wing Quong, spread the altar cloth, and in front of it laid a strip of carpet to cover the rough board floor.

A Chinese boy, in Chinese dress and queue, at work assisting in laying the cloth on a Catholic altar to prepare for the holy sacrifice of the mass, was a unique sight, and would have been generally regarded as an incongruous spectacle; but it is due to little Quong to record the fact that no Catholic altar boy could have performed the work with more reverent demeanor than did that little Chinese boy. Father Cooper was the pioneer priest of this city, and he continued to make use of the courtroom as a temporary Catholic chapel until the Catholic church was built on Linden avenue, in 1902.

Father Cooper's little fold afforded ample room for his flock, a small band; in numbers weak, but in faith strong.

Among those who made up that band of Catholic pioneers were: Pat Ferriter and wife, M. Foley and wife, J. Nesser and wife, Tom Hickey and wife, John Schirck and wife, Val Dervin and wife, Mrs. Harrington and daughters, Margaret and Catherine; Mrs. Fourcans, Mrs. Hyland, Mrs. Jorgenson, Mrs. Cunningham, C. T. Connally, and Henry Michenfelder.

Good Father Cooper has gone to his rest and reward. A few of his old flock remain, to find shelter in a larger fold. Others are dispersed, widely separated to distant places. Some, too, preceded and some followed him unto the "Silent Land."

DES MOINES, Ia.—Speaking before the general conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church, Henry P. Davison, Chairman of the Board of Governors of the League of Red Cross Societies, said:

As chairman of the convention of Red Cross Societies, composed of representatives of twenty-seven nations that met recently in Geneva, I am custodian of authoritative reports recording appalling conditions among millions of people living in Eastern Europe.

One of the most terrible tragedies in the history of the human race is being enacted within the broad belt of territory lying between the Baltic and the Black and Adriatic Seas.

This area includes the new Baltic states—Poland, Czechoslovakia, the Ukraine, Austria, Hungary, Rumania, Montenegro, Albania and Serbia.

The reports which come to us make it clear that in these war-ravaged lands civilization has broken down. Disease, bereavement and suffering are present in practically every household, while food and clothing are insufficient to make life tolerable.

Men, women and children are dying by thousands and over vast once-civilized areas there are to be found neither medicinal appliances nor medical skill sufficient to cope with the devastating plagues.

Wholesale starvation is threatened in Poland this summer unless she can procure food supplies in large quantities. There are now approximately 250,000 cases of typhus in Poland and in the area occupied by Polish troops.

Worst Typhus Epidemic in History.

This is already one of the worst typhus epidemics in the world's history. In Galicia whole towns are crippled and business suspended. In some districts there is but one doctor to each 150,000 people.

In the Ukraine, we were told, typhus and influenza have affected most of the population.

A report from Vienna, dated February 12, said: "There are rations for three weeks. Death stalks through the streets of Vienna and takes unhindered toll."

Budapest, according to our information, is one vast city of misery and suffering. The number of deaths is double that of births of the 160,000 children in the schools, 100,000 are dependent on public charity. There are 150,000 workers idle.

Typhus and smallpox have invaded the four countries composing Czechoslovakia and there is lack of medicines, soap and physicians.

In Serbia typhus has broken out again and there are but 200 physicians to minister to the needs of that entire country.

In Montenegro, where food is running short, there are but five physicians for a population of 450,000.

Returning to the United States a few weeks ago with all these horrors ringing in my ears, I found myself once more in a land whose granaries were overflowing, where health and plenty abounded and where life and activity and eager enterprise were in the full flood.

I asked myself: "What if this plague and famine were here in the great territory between the Atlantic seaboard and the Mississippi Valley, which roughly parallels the extent of these ravaged countries and that 65,000,000 of our own people condemned to idleness by lack of raw material and whose fields had been devastated by invasion and rapine were racked by starvation and pestilence and if we had lifted up our voices and invoked the attention of our brothers in happier Europe to our own deep miseries and our cries had fallen on deaf ears, would we not in our despair exclaim against their heartlessness?"

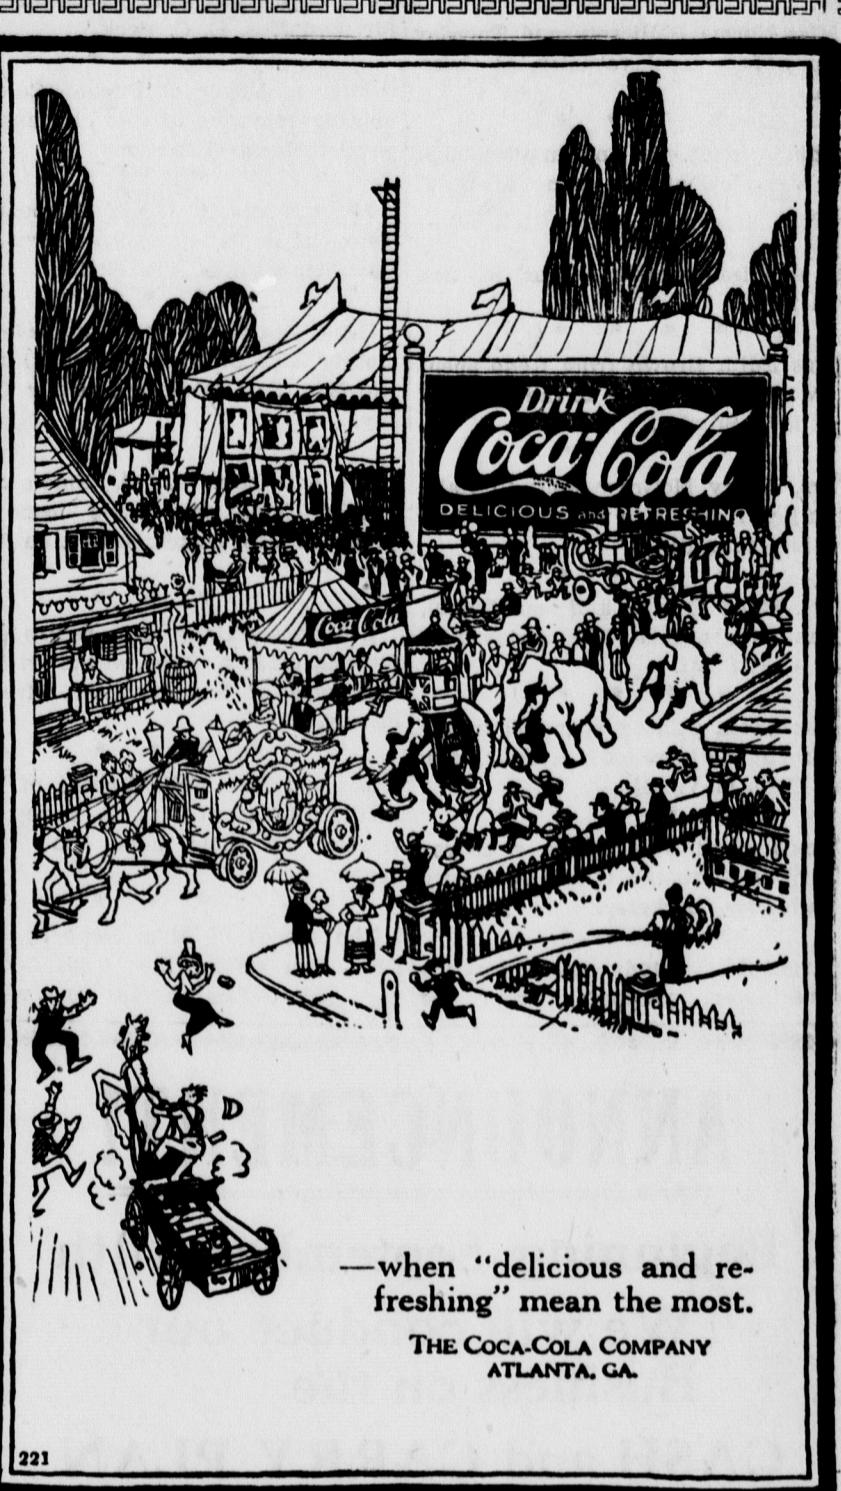

Only Three Ways to Help Europe

There are only three ways by which these stricken lands can secure supplies from the outside world. One is by payment, one by credit and the third is by exchange of commodities. If these peoples tried to buy materials and supplies in America at the present market value of their currencies Austria would have to pay forty times the original cost, Germany thirteen times, Greece just double, Czechoslovakia fourteen times and Poland fifty times. These figures are official and are a true index of the economic plight of these countries.

It is clear that they cannot give us gold for the thing they must have, nor have they either products or securities to offer in return for credit. If only they could obtain raw material which these idle millions of theirs could convert into manufactured products they would have something to tender the world in return for its raw material, food and medicine. But if they have neither money nor credit how are they to take this first great step towards redemption?

One-half the world may not eat while the other half starves. How long do you believe the plague of typhus that is taking a hideous death toll in Estonia and Poland and the Ukraine and eating along the fringes of Germany and Czechoslovakia will confine itself to these remote lands?

missioner of New York, Dr. Copeland, freshing" mean the most.

How Many Homes Have You Paid For?

And how many homes do you own today? Recently a man came into our office that had decided years ago to apply his rent money toward the payment of a house. He soon rented the house to another fellow and his rent paid the balance on the house. He bought himself another one and another one, until today he owns several homes and has quit work. The rent money he now collects means a substantial income to him. The future is sure, bright and smiling for his wife and children.

Rent day never comes around to the man who owns his own Home.

A deed to your home is the best form of life insurance you can have.

We will build you a house to order, exactly as you plan it and upon a lot that suits your ideas. A small payment down and your rent money will pay for it. The man who owns his own home not only saves rent but makes money on the increased value in his property.
